

Alexandre CRUQUENAIRE

More information on Alexandre Cruquenaire

Languages : French / English

Country : Belgium

a.cruquenaire@lexing.be

Phone : +32 81 21 22 23

Professional experience

- Professor at the University of Namur (contract law; IT contracts ; intellectual property) since 2006
- Visiting Professor at the University of Louvain (UCL) (2010-2019)
- Researcher at the Centre de Recherche Informatique et Droit (CRIDS), University of Namur (research centre in ICT law) since 1999
- Panelist CEPANI (.be domain name disputes)
- Member of the Belgian section of the ALAI (Belgian Copyright Association)
- Member of the editorial board of “Guide Juridique de l’Entreprise”
- Co-director of the Editorial Board of la “Revue de Droit des Technologies de l’Information” (ICT law review – Larcier)

- Member of the editorial board of “Revue internationale du droit des affaires” (international review of business law – Kluwer)

Diplomas, certificates and other qualifications

- Master in law (University of Namur - University of Louvain)
- Specialised Master in ICT law , University of Namur
- PhD in law, University of Namur (dissertation on "The interprétation of copyright contracts" - "L'interprétation des contrats en droit d'auteur", 2007)
- Certified Specialist in intellectual property law and in IT law (certified by the Bar Council decision of 12 January 2010)
- Agile Certification (Certified Scrum Master)

News

- 26/06/24

Lexing Belgium recommended in the Leaders League 2024 ranking
- 18/03/24

Which liability for damages caused by AI systems?
- 20/03/24

The benefits and risks of AI in recruitment
- 19/03/24

Artificial intelligence and copyright

• 24/07/19

Gmail: not a telecom operator under EU law

• 18/03/24

AI soon to be regulated: are you concerned by the new rules?

• 15/07/19

NIS Directive: finally transposed into Belgian law!

• 11/04/19

Copyright: the new directive is coming (at last)!